
In Washington State

This week was my first trip to Washington. What a view coming into Seattle from the plane! Mt. Rainier was spectacular and all I could see was the top that was protruding through the clouds. Excellent opportunities here and the weather is supposed to be sunny and 80 this weekend! I'm torn between going to Olympic National Park and going to some of the popular trails like Mt. or Tiger Mountain. I'll have some trip reports ready after my hike this weekend.
